With the weather getting nicer, let's enjoy some time on the patio soaking up the sunshine, breathing in the fresh spring air and listening to the birds.

Tree Planting

April 26th in the Afternoon

What better way to celebrate Arbor Day than to plant a tree in our own back yard? Let's come together and plant something that will keep our house beautiful for many years to come!

Rainbow Cocktails and Paint Afternoon

Tuesday, April 4th in the Afternoon

Rainbows are one of the many things that make our earth beautiful! We are going to take the day to celebrate all of the colors by having colorful drinks and using bubbles to make unique eye-catching paintings.

Behind the Music: Tree Tunes

April 23rd in the Morning

Listening to songs inspired by trees will get us moving and grooving! We will also learn a little bit about each tune to ensure that we are working both our bodies and our minds!

Un-Creepy Crawly Scavenger Hunt

April 26th in the Morning

Every part of nature is important to the way our earth flourishes, from the tallest of trees to the smallest of bugs. Grab your pens, clip boards, and adventuring caps we are going to look at pictures of different kinds of bugs and do our best to match them to their names!

Crafter's Corner: Creativity Grows

Every Friday Afternoon

We are going to try to bring the beauty of the earth into our home! At the beginning of the month we will be focusing on reusing materials to make things like planters and hearts out of old crayons. At the end of the month we will focus on trying to recreate nature indoors by making paper raindrops and leaf rubbings.
